I Hit the Nail Right on the Head for 1902

by presenting you in this most condensed form my Wholesale Price List to truckers, in which I offer you the finest lot of seeds ever gotten together by a single American seed house, in a year when owing to short crops, almost every other seed concern is shouting high prices.

Two years ago I started to make preparations for my Silver Anniversary in the seed business. With this end in view last season I planted a larger acreage than ever of almost everything, and I go into the season of 1902, notwithstanding short crops, with the most complete line of garden seeds it has ever been my pleasure to offer my customers.

Take the single item of Gradus or Prosperity Peas, I have more of these peas to sell than all the other seed houses in America put together, and the same thing may be said of many other sorts. Above all, notwithstanding the fact that better seeds than Maule's cannot be obtained at any price, I am able by reason of large stocks of many things, to quote you herewith most reasonable figures. As I have stated frequently before, I believe in a live and let live policy. Many market gardeners had a hard season in 1901 on account of the unusual weather, too much rain in some places, too little in others, consequently, you all want to make a twenty dollar bill go as far as possible. Never in the history of my business has my early winter trade been so satisfactory; my orders at this writing are running double those of last year, so that although my stocks of many things are extraordinarily large, it looks as if some of them would not last the season out, hence I would respectfully solicit your orders at as early a date as possible.

Wishing you the compliments of the season, and a Happy and Prosperous New Year,

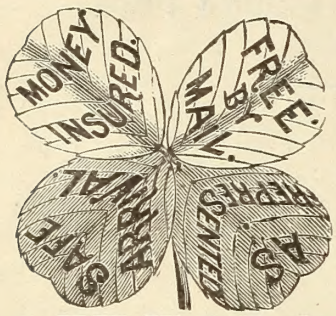
I remain,

Yours always to command,

Wm. Henry Maule

I wish to call particular attention to the fact that this price list is intended for truckers only, and by truckers I mean those who are regularly in the market garden business, raising vegetables for a living. In no case and under no circumstances will orders be filled from it for private gardeners, whom I would respectfully refer to my Silver Anniversary Catalogue.

Notice. Many individual items are quoted so low in this Price List that I will not fill orders for them exclusively, as these prices are made for the benefit of my regular customers who send me their general order. For instance, I shall decline to fill all orders received for Alaska Peas at $5.50 per bushel, when nothing else is ordered; the same thing applies to Prosperity, American Wonder, Nott's Excelsior and other peas, Wardwell's Kidney Wax Beans, etc., etc. I do not propose to sell my entire supply of one variety to five or six large canning establishments, etc.; but propose to divide same in small lots among my many thousand market gardener customers.



My Four-Leaf Clover

GUARANTEE.

1. SAFE ARRIVAL. I guarantee that all goods sold by me shall reach my customers in good order.

2. MONEY INSURED. I guarantee to hold myself responsible for the safe arrival of all remittances sent me by P. O. order, draft, check or registered letter.

3. FREE BY MAIL. I guarantee to deliver, free of all charges, all garden seeds, when 10 cents per pound or 15 cents per quart, is added to prices quoted in this list.

4. AS REPRESENTED. I guarantee my seeds to be just as represented. If they prove otherwise, I will refill the order free of charge; but it must be understood that I do not guarantee the crop any further than to refill the order.

WHAT MORE COULD BE ASKED?

I guarantee everything but the crop. Protected from loss by this most liberal of all guarantees, every one can rest assured of the most entire satisfaction.

The Prices Given in This List

Are for seeds carefully packed and delivered free on board in this city, to express, railroad or steamship company; but the purchaser MUST in all cases pay the freight. If you want anything sent by mail, 10 cents per pound or 10 cents per quart for sweet corn, and 15 cents per quart for peas and beans, must be added to prices quoted. One-quarter and one-half pounds may be ordered at the pound prices. Quarter bushels and half bushels at the bushel rate.

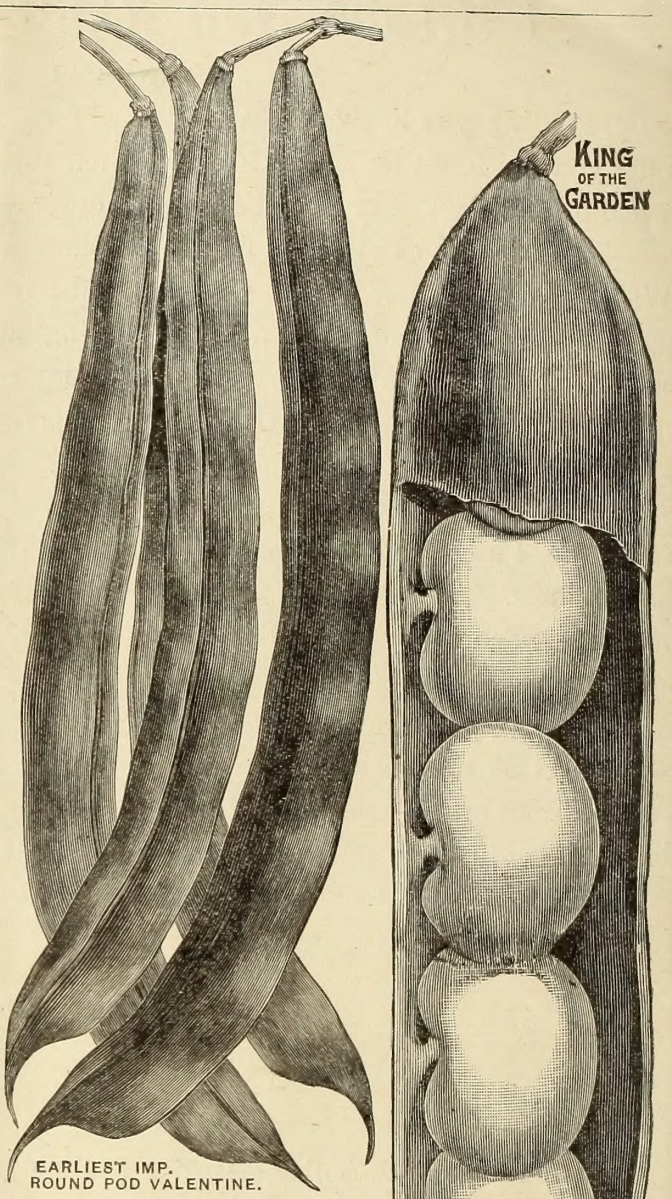
TERMS:

CASH WITH ORDER, or satisfactory bank reference. Money may be sent by post office order, draft or check. If you don't remit in any of these ways, REGISTER THE LETTER; you can do this at any post office in America. I will send C. O. D. by express on orders exceeding $10, if 25 per cent. of the money is remitted with the order. I cannot ship C. O. D. by freight. I receive postage stamps same as cash.

Early Orders are Particularly Solicted

At this writing I have already sold more Alaska Peas for next season's planting than I sold the entire season of 1901. The same thing applies to many other varieties in this Price List, so that notwithstanding my large stocks, in many cases double those of last season, I am very sure I shall be sold out of many things earlier than usual, and as it is impossible for me to replace them with seeds of equal quality from other seedsmen, the only thing left for me to do will be to return your money when I am sold out of the seeds I now have in store.

Every trucker receiving this list should have a copy of my Silver Anniversary Catalogue. It is undoubtedly the seed book of the year, containing as it does, full description of everything named in this Price List, eight colored plates, more than 650 illustrations, 72 varieties illustrated in colors. If you have not already received a copy, you should send for it at once. It is mailed free to all who apply for it, mentioning this Wholesale Price List to Truckers.



EARLIEST IMP. ROUND POD VALENTINE.

WARDWELL'S KIDNEY WAX.

PLEASE NOTE

That this is nothing more than a plain price list for truckers. I have omitted almost all descriptions from this list from the fact that everything is so fully described in my annual catalogue that it would be superfluous to repeat descriptions of varieties here.

Bear in mind that you can always order one-fourth pounds at the pound rate and pecks at the bushel rate.

The following prices are absolutely net. Goods are delivered free of charge on board cars or steamer in this city, no charge for bags or cartage, but the purchaser must pay transportation charges.

New Stringless Green Pod Bush Bean.

A TRUCKER'S TREASURE.

The New Stringless Green Pod is now one of the most popular bush beans in America. In point of earliness it ranks among the first; in quality it is excelled by none, and in bearing ability it stands without a rival. It is unquestionably the greatest green pod bean to date. As to brittleness of pod, the point suggested by its name, its merit is so high that its enthusiastic friends claim that it is

The Only Really Stringless Green Pod Bean in Cultivation.

The Celebrated Lupton Cabbage.

A Grand Leading Main Crop Sort of my Introduction

The Only Real Rival of the Famed Surehead.

Again I present the great Lupton Cabbage as a leading novelty. Nothing among the new sorts can approach it in merit and productiveness. No other late cabbage (except Surehead) can rival it. It holds the place of honor among my cabbage trials, just as it has done every year for a decade.

Lupton has some of the best traits of Surehead, with the size and general shape of Maule's Prize Flat Dutch; but is several days earlier than the latter. Its growth is particularly strong and vigorous. Its color is a dark bluish green, indicating robust constitution and healthy development. The leaves are broad and well filled out to their juncture with the stem. The stem is short, and broad under the head, but tapers almost to a point where it enters the ground. The head is thick and flat, with the outer leaves covering it well across the centre. It is very large, solid, and of the most excellent quality and flavor, without any features of coarseness, the veins and ribs being well developed, but not prominent.

The Lupton cabbage began its career in 1888, on the eastern end of Long Island, in an extensive cabbage growing district. The originator, whose name the cabbage bears, is undoubtedly the largest grower of first class cabbage seed in America and every prominent seed firm in the country considers him an authority on this important subject. In the autumn of 1888 a single specimen of a new strain of cabbage was found growing as a sport in a field of Late Flat Dutch. Mr. Lupton, whose long experience qualifies him to act as an expert judge, at once recognized a prize in the new sort, and thus the Lupton cabbage had its origin.

I was given the privilege of associating the name of the originator with the new strain, a privilege which Mr. Lupton would never have granted except in case of a strain in which he had the utmost confidence, and I can say that it deserves, equally with Surehead, the celebrated descriptive phrase, "all head and always sure to head." Lupton matures about a week in advance of the various strains of Late Flat Dutch, is an excellent keeper, and for all purposes of the farmer and gardener, makes with Surehead the two best main crop cabbages now on the market.

MAULE'S NEW ROSETTE LETTUCE.

While in France in 1900 visiting the Exposition I was fortunate enough to secure this brand new Cabbage Lettuce, which I offered in my 1901 catalogue under the name of Maule's Unnamed Lettuce, presenting a packet free to my many thousand customers who ordered one dollar's worth of seeds from me. It certainly created a place for itself, whether in the garden, on the table, or on the market stall, and was the admiration of all who saw it. The shape and general appearance of Rosette is plainly shown in the illustration herewith, and I do not think a better name could have been selected. This name was suggested by three of my customers, Mrs. Edw. Hull, Encinitos, Cala., N. P. Gregg, Eastsound, Wash., Mrs. E. J. Pelton, Riner, Va., among whom the $100 prize was equally divided.

Rosette is of good size, a plant covering an area of 8 to 10 inches in diameter. The head is full and compact; pale green in color, almost yellow on top. The outer leaves are very much rounded in outline, with a few broad, coarse crimpings, and not nearly so pale in color as the leaves which form the head. The seed is white. It is regular in shape, and the head forms quickly. It is slow to run to seed. It is not the largest lettuce on the market in spread of leaves; but in actual crop it outyields many larger sorts. It is nearly all head, and but little waste, and it is to be strongly recommended for both home and market use. Last fall I was in receipt of hundreds of letters praising Rosette in highest terms. I quote from a few as follows:

R. M. Jefferies, Thebes, Ill.: It comes nearer combining all the qualities required by a market gardener than any sort.—H. Wolrath, St. Johnsville, N. Y.: I cannot speak too highly of its merits. The flavor is delicious, and it surpasses any thing in the way of a lettuce my friends or myself have ever eaten.—E. Lamphere, Bethany, Neb.: The best I ever saw; stood the hot, dry weather of Nebraska this year better than any vegetable I had.—David Winter, Remington, Ind.: We had very hot, dry weather, but it kept right on growing, was always crisp and of fine nutty flavor; without exception the finest lettuce I ever tasted. S. G. Kilgore, London, O.: Far ahead of any I ever tasted: crisp, juicy and tender, with a peculiar buttery flavor.

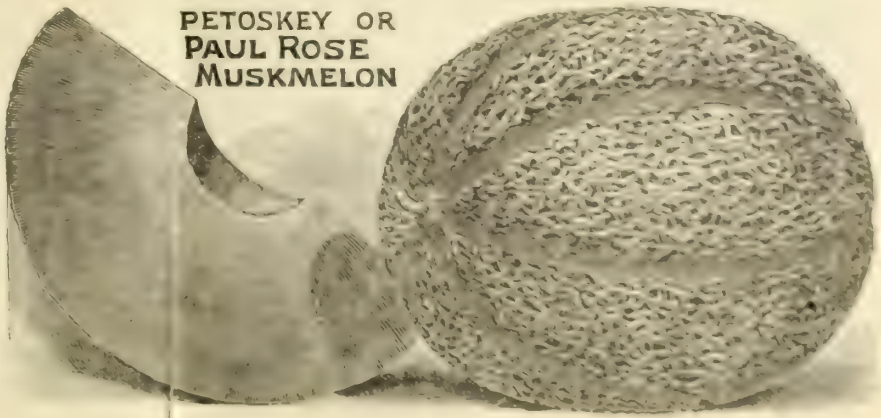
MAULE'S NETTED GEM OR ROCKY FORD MUSKMELON.

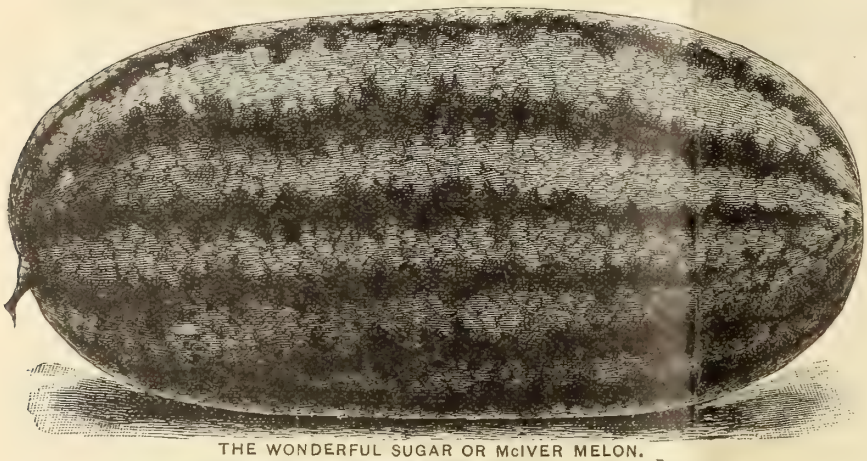
PETOSKEY OR PAUL ROSE.

THICK MEATED AND FINE FLAVOR.

This extra fine salmon fleshed melon is a hybrid between Osage and Netted Gem, being a full brother to the new Osage Gem, which I elsewhere describe. It is, however, larger than Osage Gem, with deeper flesh. It is the thickest fleshed yellow or salmon colored muskmelon within my knowledge. It is of the Netted Gem or Rocky Ford family, being small in size, slightly elongated in shape, and of the highest flavor known. The average weight of all these melons is below 2 pounds, with Petoskey somewhat larger than some of the others. The illustration shows the shape. Notwithstanding its thin rind, Petoskey is a good shipper and fine melon for market purposes. Its habit of growth is very uniform, and it is handsome when in crate or basket. It is of the type which is now in highest fashion. My seed is grown directly from headquarters stock.



THE WONDERFUL SUGAR OR McIVER MELON. The Sweetest of All.



THE WONDERFUL SUGAR OR McIVER MELON.

This widely famous watermelon is, I believe, the sweetest grown, and the best in table quality ever put before the people of this country. It is of medium size, with striped or variegated exterior, beautiful red flesh, and light colored or white seeds. The flesh is entirely stringless, and of perfect quality as to texture and sweetness. The vines are strong, thrifty and prolific, and well adapted to withstand either wet weather or drought. This melon was grown for many years by Col. E. R. McIver, of South Carolina, president of his county agricultural society, and a watermelon enthusiast, and he considered it the sweetest within his knowledge. The seed came originaly from the West Indies. Prof. W. F. Massey, of North Carolina, wrote of it in terms of high and unqualified praise to THE PRACTICAL FARMER, of Philadelphia, and I introduced it to the American public in my 1894 catalogue. Since that time it has been tried by many thousands of my customers, both North and South, and unlimited praise is given to it for the qualities above described. The Wonderful Sugar melon should be in every choice garden in America. It is well adapted to nearby markets, but is rather delicate for long freight shipment. I highly recommend Wonderful sugar to every melon fancier.

Maule's Prizetaker Onion.

THE LEADER OF THEM ALL. NAMED AND INTRODUCED BY ME IN 1888.

It took the trade ten years to find out how good it was. With the result that it is now prominently listed in all the leading American Seed Catalogues

To carry any vegetable as a novelty for more than a decade, as I have done Prizetaker Onion, certainly speaks well for the vegetable. I named and introduced this great Onion in 1888, and ever since have given it special prominence in every catalogue I have issued. To-day, fourteen years after it was named by me, it will be found prominently illustrated in almost every catalogue. Some call it Smith's Prizetaker; Brown's Prizetaker; Jone's Prizetaker; and Robinson's Prizetaker; but no matter how many seedsmen put their names in front of Prizetaker, there is only one Prizetaker, and that is Maule's, named and introduced by me, and for five years catalogued by myself exclusively. Originally offered in 1888 at 25 cents per packet, 5 packets for $1.00, the price has been gradually reduced until this year for the first time, I am able to quote Maule's Prizetaker Onion Seed, Headquarters Stock, for $1.00 per pound.

Prizetaker is by far the handsomest, most productive, most popular and best of all Yellow Globe Onions. It is a bright clear straw color, and always grows to a uniform shape, which is a perfect globe. It has a very small neck, and ripens up without stiffness of the neck. In market it never fails to attract attention on account of its beauty, and is sure to bring a far better price than any other Onion. It is even more attractive in appearance than the large Spanish Onions sold on the city fruit stands, and in fact takes the place of that variety.

My predictions made years ago, at the time of its introduction, that Prizetaker would supplant all others of its class, has long since been verified. It has attracted more attention and awakened wider and more cordial enthusiasm than any other Onion ever introduced to the American public. It has proven itself a great acquisition to farmers and gardeners, and is to-day admitted to be the largest, best keeping and most superior Yellow Globe Onion under cultivation.

I have, personally, looked in vain in various parts of Europe and America for an Onion surpassing Prizetaker in beauty, productiveness and general merit, and believe there is nothing to equal it. It is unexcelled either for home use or as a money maker.

$100 IN TWO CASH PRIZES OF $50 EACH.

I will pay $50.00 Nov. 1st, 1902 to the customer, residing East of the Miss[illegible] River, sending me the largest and best formed Prizetaker [illegible] I will also pay $50.00 to the customer residing West of the Miss[illegible] sending the largest and best formed Prizetaker [illegible] to be sent me charges prepaid, and to reach me on or before Nov. 1st, 1902. These prizes will make an interesting competition [illegible] two great sections of the country, and I hope my customers will [illegible] into this competition with a will.

It is with pleasure I am able to say that this year I [illegible] with the largest supply of Prizetaker I ever had, having [illegible] to ten thousand pounds; my idea being that this, my Silver [illegible] Year, I should have plenty of seed of such a prominent [illegible] taker to supply all my customers. I understand [illegible] Prizetaker are scarce, and [illegible] here is an opportunity for all those desiring to [illegible] to get the genuine headquarters stock at very [illegible]

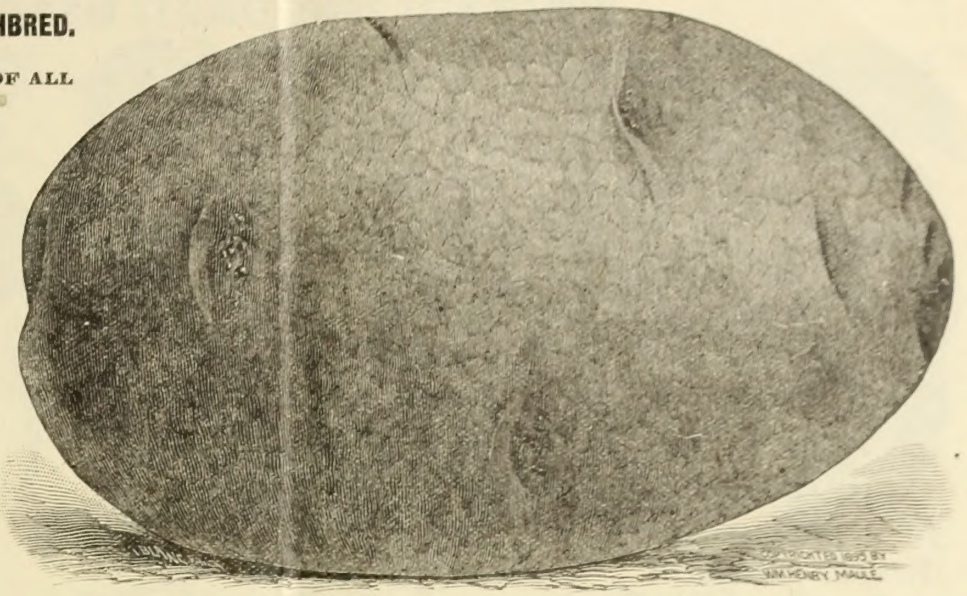
PRIDE OF THE MARKET. L. I. MAMMOTH.

MAULE'S EARLY THOROUGHBRED.

A GRAND LEADER.
ABSOLUTELY THE GREATEST OF ALL MONEY MAKERS.

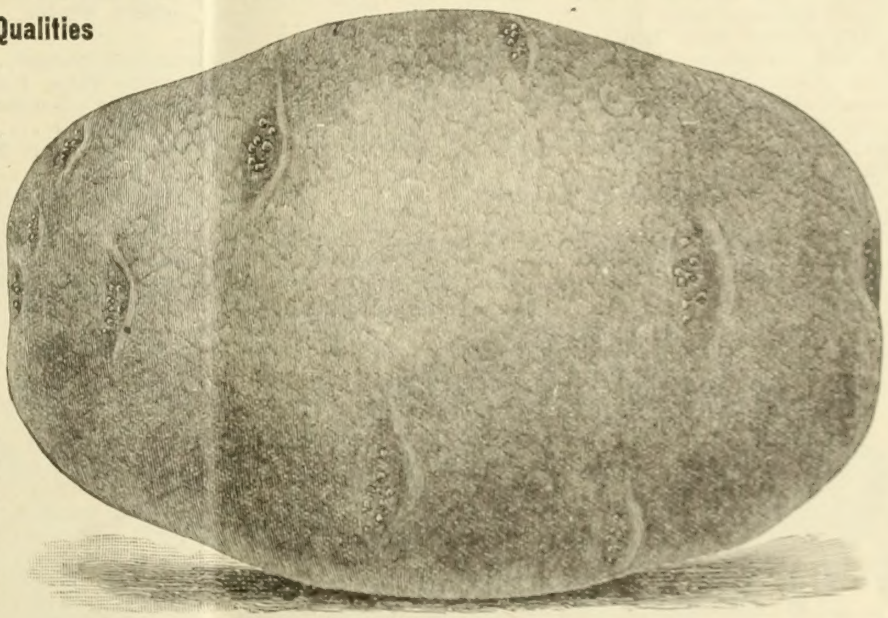


MAULE'S EARLY THOROUGHBRED.

Maule's Early Thoroughbred was first offered to the public in 1896, at $25.00 a barrel, since which time I have received hundreds of reports of field crops running up to 300 bushels per acre. No new potato (except Early Rose and Freeman) ever created such a furore. On account of its earliness it is not much affected by the usual mid-summer and autumn droughts, while in keeping qualities it is unsurpassed by any late variety under cultivation. In quality it equals the Freeman, either baked or boiled, a statement which is a high tribute to its flavor and table merit. The illustration does not in any way exaggerate its smooth and handsome appearance. It produces an unusually large proportion of merchantable tubers. The potatoes grow closely in the hill, and are of large and nearly uniform size. Mr. T. B. Terry, the well-known Ohio potato grower, says the bearing habit of the Early Thoroughbred is a matter of blood; that blood will as surely tell in seed as in live stock. Mr. Terry made a comparative test of Maule's Early Thoroughbred with a potato in favor in his neighborhood; the result being as 45 to 15 in favor of the former, or at the rate of 240 bushels an acre for Early Thoroughbred Potato. "In every hill," says Mr. Terry, in describing this experiment, "there were great large, beautiful potatoes, such as I have never seen since the first year the old Early Rose came around. There were practically no small or medium sized ones. * * * The first year I grew Early Rose there were a good many tubers as fine and large as these. I have never seen any early potatoes on my farm since as fine until I dug these. * * * They resemble the Rose in shape, color and quality very much. They are quite as early." It was not strange that Mr. Terry, with all his experience, should write: "I was never so surprised in all my life at any results obtained in potato culture." Mr. Terry's caution should be heeded. "Thousands of farmers," he says, "are using seed that has so run out that there is no profit in growing the crop." The Early Thoroughbred is capable of infusing new life and profit into the potato business.

THE COMMERCIAL POTATO. MOST PROLIFIC MAIN CROP SORT.

A Grand New Potato. Best Keeping Qualities and Rare Productiveness.



THE COMMERCIAL POTATO.

The great Commercial Potato, which I recently introduced, is a seedling of Wilson Rose, whose parentage runs back to Early Rose. It is earlier than Sir Walter Raleigh. The tubers are of beautiful shape and appearance, being oblong and rather broad and thick. The eyes are shallow. The color is that peculiar russet which characterizes all the best potatoes, in addition to which the pink or rosy hue of its great ancestor is clearly visible, giving it a most attractive appearance. It somewhat resembles Carman No. 3 in shape. The vine is robust, but compact; not of spreading habit. This is favorable to close planting and big crops. The comparatively quick growth and early maturity of this splendid main crop potato will adapt it to many localities where the late sorts have no time to mature on account of shortness of season. It is equal in keeping qualties to any late potato grown. I fully tested it in every way before sending it out, and found that it would remain in good order for a year after digging. On the 15th of August, a year after growth, and with ordinary storage, the tubers were as edible and mealy as when dug. The table quality is fully and unconditionally equal to Early Rose at its best. The flesh is as white as snow, and the texture is perfect. The Commercial is a tremendously heavy cropper, and I have no hesitation in naming 400 to 500 bushels to the acre as within the easy possibilities of this grand new sort. It has great drought resisting qualites on account of its strong root development, and is in my opinion the best main crop potato now on the market.
